CALL FOR PAPERS

About Delhi Law Review (Student Edition)

The Delhi Law Review (DLR) is the flagship journal of the Faculty of Law and is one of the oldest journals in the country, having been published since 1978. The Student Edition of the DLR (SDLR) is an annual, double-blind, student-reviewed and edited journal which was introduced with the objective of involving students in promoting academic research and facilitating debate on contemporary legal issues in India. The SDLR assumes an interdisciplinary orientation and is wide enough to include national and international legal and policy-based issues within its sweep. As of 2018, the journal has been made available as a digital publication accessible on the Faculty of Law website here: http://lawfaculty.du.ac.in/Delhi_Law_Review_Students.html

Types of Submissions

The Student Edition of the Delhi Law Review is now accepting submissions for its upcoming issue: Vol. VI of 2019. The SDLR invites original, unpublished manuscripts from all academicians, authors, legal professionals and students from India and abroad in the following categories:

A. Long Articles (6500-8500 words, including footnotes)

Submissions in this category are expected to engage with the theme and literature of a particular topic comprehensively. The article must survey current practice in the field, identify any lacunae and offer innovative reassessment along with constructive suggestions. Theoretical pieces are also welcome in this category.

B. Essays/Short Articles (3500-6000 words, including footnotes)

Essays/short articles are more concise in scope and are focused on a particular issue and offer new perspectives and critical insights on the selected topic. They offer clearly identifiable arguments and may provide different ways of conceptualizing the selected issue.

C. Case Notes and Legislative Comments (1500-2500 words)

This category is meant for the analysis of any contemporary judicial pronouncement, legislative action, or policy proposal. Notes and Comments must trace the line of cases in which the decision appears and comment on its implications on the evolution of that branch of law. Similarly, a legislative comment or policy proposal must identify the object and expected impact of the legislative action/policy proposal in question.

Submission Guidelines

I. General Instructions

- Long articles and short articles must be accompanied by an abstract not exceeding 200 words.
- Up to 2 co-authors are allowed for all categories, except Case Notes and Legislative Comments wherein co-authorship is not permitted.
- All works must be original and unpublished, and must not be pending for review before any other journal. Any form of plagiarism will result in immediate disqualification for publication in the SDLR.
- While it is advisable to adhere to the word limits of each category, the journal may be flexible on the word limit depending on the quality of the article.
- Deadline for submission is 10th March, 2019, 11:59 p.m. IST.

II. Format

- In accordance with the double-blind process of review, the name of the authors or their institutional affiliation must not be mentioned anywhere in the manuscript or its properties.

- The main body of the manuscript should be in Times New Roman style, font size 12, with 1.5 line spacing and footnotes in Times New Roman Style, Size 10, with 1.0 line spacing. All headings must have uniform formatting.
- Texts and footnotes should conform to the ILI Citation Rules. Submissions with endnotes will be rejected.
- The first page of the manuscript should only contain the name of the paper followed by a 200-word abstract. The second page should commence with the main body of the manuscript.
